Dear colleagues,

With great pleasure we announce the next meeting of the GPZ study group 'Cytogenetics' taking place at the IPK, Gatersleben, Germany, on March 30 – 31, 2017.

In light of the ongoing progress in the field of cytogenetics and genome editing, the focus of the conference is

"Chromosome Biology and Genome engineering in the context of plant breeding"

The program will address a broad spectrum of fundamental and applied aspects of these topics.

The meeting provides excellent opportunities to stimulate scientific discussion and interact with international colleagues involved in genome editing, chromosome engineering, advanced cytogenetics and plant breeding.

We are looking forward to welcome you in Gatersleben.

On behalf of the organizers,

Ingo Schubert and Andreas Houben
